Have you been looking for a way to help the precious creatures that are being harmed? Learn about our non-profit organization inside!
About Our Business

We want to make a difference and that is the reasoning behind the webpage. To increase individuals awareness about the torture elephants incur and how we can help stop the killing of these precious creatures. Elephants are being killed everyday for their tusks and becoming extinct.

What makes our website different from others is that we are 100% not for profit. Usually sites are started with the purpose of making a difference but taking 95% of their profits while donating only a mere 5% or less. The clothing we sell is created using our own funds therefore you can count on us that 100% of your donations are going back into helping the elephants.

Why you should donate

You can help save an elephant's life by donating to the link below because every penny helps. As a non-profit organization, BLES is entirely dependent on funds generated by visitors to the Sanctuary and on donations from individuals, foundations, and other agencies. One hundred percent of all monies received are reinvested in helping our elephants and other BLES animals. The proceeds go towards saving and nurturing the elephants on their elephant farm. Please make an Ele's dream come true by donating to adopt your own elephant! BLES strives to rescue and protect the elephants of Thailand from abuse and ultimate extinction. They provide a safe home where we focus on individual survival and growth in numbers. BLES allows elephants to interact in a natural environment that encourages breeding. Additionally, they offer support and advice to local elephant owners who may lack sufficient funds to care for their animals.

The Founder

Once Upon a Tusk was founded by Julia Hyzdu. She attends SUNY Cortland in Upstate NY. She has a business economics major with a computer applications minor. Although this organization isn’t linked to her major, she is extremely passionate about making a difference in this world. She realizes herself as an individual cannot make a the difference that elephants need and that is where you come in. We need your help and donations to make a difference in these precious creatures lives.
